Every effort will be made by staff to ensure that work is set promptly on appropriate platforms, but school cannot guarantee that the chosen platforms will work on all devices. Should accessing work be an issue, parents should contact school promptly and alternative solutions will be made available (e.g. loan of laptops, some paper copies of work may be available etc.). These will be discussed on case-to-case basis.

A member of the teaching team will call you if they can see that you are having trouble engaging with the work. They will talk you through any problems and support you and your child however necessary. This could then be followed up by calls from our Parent Link Teacher, Mrs Smith if there are pastoral issues.

Background

Each of Oak's lessons is delivered by a trained teacher, over a pre-recorded video. It's clear at the start of each lesson, any basic materials that you may need, such as pens, paper etc. The lessons are designed to need minimal supervision, although this will depend on the age of your child.

Each lesson takes around an hour for a pupil to complete. There is a pre-recorded video from a teacher, with slides, as well as quizzes, worksheets and creative activities.

Structure of the lessons

At the beginning of each lesson, there will be a short introductory quiz that will help you check on any previous learning on a topic, and re-cap anything that you may have forgotten. Once you have completed this, click 'Close Quiz' and then 'Next' at the bottom of the page.

What if my child is struggling or not completing their Remote Education?

Your child's teachers will be setting learning appropriate to your child's ability, age and stage in the year. They will be able to monitor if your child is engaging. Teachers will be providing materials that will support and extend your child's learning which should allow all children to partake in and make genuine progress so they don't have lots to catch up on when they come back to school.

There may be different levels of activities, additional support videos and other resources to support your child's understanding. It is important to remember that struggle is a normal part of learning and children would face challenges in that learning pit even when in school. However, if your child is really struggling with any aspect of remote learning, be it completing tasks or gaining access to devices, then please contact their Class Teacher/school via the office.

If a child does not engage with the remote education provided, the Class Teacher should be informed and a discussion had with the parents/carers to establish obstacles and provide support to enable engagement to improve.

How and when will my child hear from their teacher and get feedback?

Feedback will come in many forms including written/typed comments, acknowledgement of learning, email feedback and more. Your child may receive additional challenges to think about if they have found something easy or they may get another similar activity if they need the extra practice of the skill.

Children do not need to respond to feedback from their teachers, however, they may well need to act on the advice given in their future learning just as they would do in school. If your child does,

What can I do to support my child's home learning?

We would recommend, if possible, creating a dedicated area for your child to work on their remote education. We would encourage a set start and finish time that works for you and your family setting.

Regular time to move, exercise and have a break will be beneficial for your child's home learning experience. Having login details for online platforms to hand will also make this process easier for your child.

Check-in on what your child has achieved on a regular basis throughout the day – only upload work, when you are both happy that the task is completed fully.

If your child doesn't finish all of the tasks set on the day please encourage them to upload what they have achieved so we can gauge their level of understanding/effort.

How can my child submit their work?

If your child has completed their task on paper, you can take a photo of their work, upload it and submit the photo through the year group email. Most smartphones have a 'scan' app which makes this even easier and all documents can be sent in a single PDF file:

Will my child still have to do their remote learning if they are feeling ill with COVID19 symptoms or another illness?

No – if your child does not feel well – let them recover and feel better before settling them down to remote education tasks. Just let the teacher know via the school office.

Will my child use the Remote Learning for other illnesses?

No – remote education is just being planned and provided for the COVID self-isolation period. The same applies as above – if your child is unwell, they will not be fit to do work – they need rest and recovery time before heading back to school as normal.

As a school, we are constantly reviewing our practice with Remote Learning and will update parents/carers with any new developments/practices.
